Thorpe? "Never complete," say oldtime gridiron fans. The famous full-blooded Oklahoma Indian of Carlisle school fame is this year dashing about in the backfield for the N. Y. ### NEW VERSION OF THE JUMPER FROCK.

When the jumper dress sprang into popularity last season it was greeted as a purely American fashion. Now many of the French dressmakers are evolving clever adaptations of it. Not that one dares hint over here that a style could originate anywhere but in Paris. No matter where the jumper frock originated, the Parisian version touches that lend piquancy and style.

The model I have sketched for you here is typical. The jumper portion of the dress is of fine tan homespun. The soft satin blouse is also of tan but in a lighter tone. A bright red flower with equally bright green leaves is embroidered in silk at the corner of the square neck. This gay bit of color is distinctly smart.

Two and three quarters yards of thirty six inch material will make the jumper portion of the dress. All the pieces are cut perfectly straight except at the shoulder seams, which are slightly sloped, as I have shown in the little cutting chart at the right.

Measure on the figure the correct waist length also the skirt length and the width the panel should be. All three inches on each side of the skirt portion of the front panel for plaits. Mark these measurements on the material and proceed to cut.

In putting the dress together it is a good plan to let the belt extend under the panel so that the plaits may be tucked to it.

This kind of dress also offers splendid make-over possibilities. An old frock that is worn under the arms may be recut along these lines, or a last year's silk dress may be used for the blouse portion. It is important that both the blouse and jumper harmonize well in color and if you are using old materials it may be necessary to dye them in order to get the color effect you desire.

DEATH OF MISS SMITH LAST FRIDAY MORNING

The community was grieved to learn Friday morning, Oct. 30th, of the death of Miss Florence Eleanor Smith daughter of the late George H. Smith and Rosie Weimer Smith. Although having been ill for some time, she was able to be about the house until one week before her death. She spent much of her time painting, embroidering and doing all sorts of fancy work. She realized the seriousness of her condition and often talked to her mother about her passing and said that she had no fear of the future and would be happy with her Saviour and those who had gone before. About six o'clock Friday morning she told her mother that the clouds were rolling away and asked her to view the beauty with her. Her face shone with a beautiful light as she said: "I'm going, mother Good-bye!" and waved her hand.

Miss Smith was born May 8, 1901 in Cedarville, O., her father preceded her three years ago and her brother, Robert, 19 years old, a high school athlete, passed away one year ago this month. Beside her mother, two sisters, Christine and Regina, Cedarville High School students survive. She was a capable and popular girl and all who knew her loved her. She was prominently identified with affairs of the town both in school and church. She was a graduate of Cedarville High School class of 1919 and Cedarville College 1923, and taught in the Beaver High School, where she coached girl's athletics the year following her graduation from college. While in High school and College she played on the Basket Ball teams and was known all over the county for her excellent playing. She was perhaps the best basket ball forward in the history of the college and was captain of her team for three years. While in High School her team won the County Championship each year. She was excellent in dramatics and took a leading part in most of the plays of the College and she was also artist on the Cedarville staff.

Florence was a member of the Methodist Church, the Methodist choir and the Standard Bearers Missionary Society and the Epworth League in all of which she took an active part, having also been Secretary of the Sabbath School and for four years Junior League Superintendent.

The funeral services were held Monday at 1:30 P. M. in the Methodist church, burial taking place at Xenia.

Dr. W. R. McCasney, President of Cedarville College, had charge of the services and spoke in a touching manner of the beautiful character of Miss Smith. He was assisted by Rev. Jos. Bennett, pastor of the Methodist church, Rev. W. P. Harriman, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church, Dr. W. E. Felt of Cincinnati and Rev. Joseph Patton of Yellow Springs. Mrs. J. W. Johnson sang "The Lord is My Shepherd" and "Shadows", two of her favorite songs. The College attended the services in a body. The pall bearers were young men friends, Messrs. Harold Ray of Ann Arbor, Mich., Harry Hamman, Charles Townsley, William Snell, Arthur W. Finley of Columbus and Rev. Paul Duncan of Coulterville, Ill.

Till we Heard Day-Fan we never Heard Radio

THERE are other good radios, of course, but the above remark is one we hear mighty often. The only trouble with home life these days is that father wants to hear the Chicago stock reports, mother wants that Washington lecture on canning, and brother and the girls want that dance music from the big hotel orchestras from all over the United States—so they all hove around the Day-Fan Radio at once.

Whichever one is delightedly turning the single dial control, what he wants he gets with the Day-Fan 5—at the dial point numbered just as the newspapers number the station, or at a number the Day-Fan Air Telephone Directory gives him.

"Like watching a parade go by" said one of our friends as he wandered from station to station. "Sure as the dial telephone" said another "but with what beauty of tone!" All sorts of claims are made for a radio set, but we only say "Come in tonight—you'll go out with a Day-Fan."

Two Letters

The first written twenty years ago, the second recently by Mrs. J. H.
Bourland,
Frankston,
Texas.

June 2, 1904, she writes:—

"For twenty-three years I was a constant sufferer from chronic catarrh. I had a severe misery and burning in the top of my head, a continual dropping of mucus into my throat causing frequent expectoration. My entire system became involved and I grew worse. It seemed as if I could not recover from a constant cough and frequent attacks of bilious colic. My bowels were affected, causing alarming hemorrhages. I tried many remedies and finally took Pe-r-u-na. In three days I was relieved of my bowel trouble and entirely cured by five bottles. I most cheerfully recommend Pe-r-u-na."

June 20, 1924, Mrs. Bourland writes again:—

"I will soon be seventy-nine years old and enjoy good health for one of my age. I still recommend Pe-r-u-na and take it myself when necessary."

For more than half a century Pe-r-u-na has a proud record of good done. Men and women the world over stand ready to testify to its value in the treatment of all catarrhal disorders.

Send 4 cents postage to the PE-RU-NA COMPANY, Columbus, Ohio, for book on catarrh.
